

PORTABLE PICTURES PRIVACY POLICY

Portable Pictures is committed to ensuring that your privacy is protected. Should we ask you to provide certain information by which you can be identified then you can be assured that it will only be used in accordance with this privacy statement.

This policy is effective from May 2018.

Portable Pictures may collect the following information:

- name and postcode (if you ask us for a quote)
- email address (if you opt in to join our mailing list)
- address and telephone number (if you make a booking)

We will not give information about you to anyone else, or use information about you for other purposes, unless your consent has been given or the law allows this. We are committed to upholding the principles of the Data Protection Act and will not process your information in a way incompatible with these principles.

If you opt in to join our mailing list we will periodically send you promotional emails about upcoming screenings/ events, special offers or announcements. Every email we send to the mailing list will include the option to unsubscribe from all future marketing emails.